Since 2008, Agranova and Croprosis Ltd combined their resources to produce the agrochemical information service that sets the standard in industry analysis and in the provision of competitive intelligence. At a time when the need for well researched, well presented information has never been greater, we at Agranova Alliance have put together the ultimate package of publications and client support for the global crop protection industry. The annual subscription provides clients with the following publications:

- *Ag Chem New Compound Review
- Crop Protection Actives[§]
- *Ag Chem Supplementary Report
- Ag Chem Base[§]
- Full back-up service for specific enquiries

 These reports are available as perfect bound reports or as pdfs.

[§] These databases are offered online at Agranova's dedicated website

The Agranova Alliance Service - the complete package of authoritative, timely and reliable advice and information for all those concerned with inventing, developing, marketing or producing crop protection agents
